Q&A WITH JUSTIN

WHAT SPORT WOULD YOU COMPETE IN IF YOU WERE IN THE OLYMPICS? WHY?

Soccer. My wife and I actually met at Simpson University where we both played the goalkeeper for the men's and women's soccer teams. It would be cool to play on the world stage and represent our country in one of the world's favorite sports.

WHAT DO YOU DO FOR FUN?

My wife and I love to play strategy board games; we have a collection of over 60 games. We love that board games feel like a date-night in, a special event, or just as a way to spend time together with friends and family.

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE MOVIE AND WHY?

I have over 300 movies in my collection, but my favorite is an unusual pick: the 1998 version of the Parent Trap. This was the movie we always brought camping and watched on sick or rainy days. The nostalgia associated with this movie makes it my favorite, and recently my five-year-old daughter has started to fall in love with it too, only adding to the fond memories.

WHO IS YOUR FAVORITE AUTHOR?

JRR Tolkien. I read the entire Lord of the Rings series when I was in fourth grade and have loved it ever since. I am fascinated with Tolkien's creative ability to build such an expansive world. He created an entire history and culture for each people group - an entire mythos, complete with multiple religions and functional languages. I can't wait to start sharing these fantastic worlds and stories with my children.

WHAT'S YOUR BEST TRAVEL STORY?

While on a college mission trip to the Spanish controlled city of Melilla in North Africa, we visited Morocco and stayed in the medieval city of Old Fez. From the ancient walls surrounding the city and the generations-old leather tanning site, to maze-like alleys and old bustling market streets, it truly felt like medieval times. We tried a lot of interesting food, bartered at local markets, and met so many amazing people - it was such an eye-opening experience to see how different the world, and its many cultures, can be.

WHAT DID YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GREW UP?

I actually wanted to be a professional baseball player. Despite the fact I played soccer in college, baseball was always my favorite sport and the sport I was most skilled at. I grew up playing little league and travel ball, and watched my dad play Sunday ball. Baseball was a large part of my childhood, and I always thought it would be the coolest thing to play with the pros on TV or have my name announced at Dodger Stadium when I stepped up to the plate.
